

POWESHIEK COUNTY | District 1

JERRY L. HENNING (Incumbent) | UNOPPOSED

Jerry L. Henning lives three miles east of Hartwick on the F17 pavement in Jefferson Township, Poweshiek County, where he has resided for 31 years. Jerry and his wife, Patti, who is self-employed and has a part-time job, have two children: their daughter, Paige Crow, works part time for Downing Construction from home while raising their son, Enzo. Her husband, Kevin, works for Stryker Medical and they reside in Altoona. Their son, Ross, works for Vermeer and his wife, Emma, works for Pella Cooperative Electric Association and they reside in Pella.

Jerry farms with his nephew, Brian Van Thournout and his dad, Chuck. Together they raise corn and soybeans in the Hartwick area on rented land as well as land that they own. They are proud of the long term relationships that they have with their landlords and continue learning to improve their operation that was started by Jerry's parents. They have been REC members for 31 years. Jerry enjoys his current role as a director serving the members of T.I.P. REC. He received his CCD (Credentialed Cooperative Director) certificate in March of this year and looks forward to more continuing education opportunities as they arrive.

Jerry is a Jefferson Township Trustee and has a seat on the Poweshiek County Zoning Commission where he enjoys serving on both. Jerry is a member of the Poweshiek County Farm Bureau, Iowa Corn and the National Corn Growers Association. In his spare time, Jerry enjoys drone photography which benefits his farming operation, riding motorcycles, traveling with his wife and spending time with his family riding bicycles exploring Iowa's great trail system.

KEOKUK COUNTY | District 4

RONALD L. HOFFMAN (Incumbent)

Ronald L. Hoffman lives six and one-half miles southeast of Sigourney in West Lancaster Township, Keokuk County, where he has resided since 1967. He and his wife, Phyllis, have two children: Chris who lives in Muscatine; and Clint, who lives in Sigourney. The Hoffmans manage and farm 500 acres, raising mainly corn and soybeans. They also have a livestock operation raising cattle. They have been REC members for 53 years.

Ronald is a member of the Lancaster Christian Church of rural Sigourney. He is a Farm Bureau member who has served on the Board of Directors for Keokuk County, and in the past has served as president, treasurer and secretary. He is a Lions Club member and has served as director on the Mahaska Farm Service Board. Hunting and fishing are Ronald's favorite leisure time activities. He also enjoys spending time with and loving his eight grandchildren.

ANDY WEBER

Andy Weber lives six miles southeast of Sigourney in East Lancaster Township, Keokuk County, where he has resided since 2001. Andy and his wife, Gail, who is a Daycare Provider, have three children: Ali, David and Audra.

Andy is a Manager at Vision Ag at their Sigourney location where he's worked for 6 ½ years and prior he worked at Kinze Manufacturing, Inc. for 17 years. He also farms 80 acres and feeds cattle. The Webers have been REC members for 22 years. Andy is a member of Farm Bureau, Knights of Columbus and Lancaster Heritage. And in his spare time, Andy enjoys hunting, antique tractors and spending time with his grandchildren.

IOWA COUNTY | District 9

CRAIG STALLMAN (Incumbent)

Craig Stallman lives four miles west of Williamsburg in Pilot Township, Iowa County, where he has resided since 1994. Craig and his wife, Kathy, who runs Alpha Dog Obedience Training, have three children: Ty, of Urbandale, works as an Electrician for Mid Iowa Electric; Jessica, who passed away in 2009 at the age of 14; and Micki, who is a Research Scientist for Iowa State University. The Stallmans live on 10 acres - having horses, chickens and selling hay and eggs. Craig is a Tooling Specialist at Whirlpool in Amana where he has worked for 29 years. They have been REC members for 29 years. The Stallmans attend Veritas Church in Tiffin.

Craig has served on REC board for six years earning his Credentialed Cooperative Director certificate and Board Leadership certificate through continuing education. He is the TIP representative on the CIPCO board where TIP buys all their wholesale power. Craig was elected to the REC board in 2017.

BILL DAVIS

Bill Davis lives six miles south of Williamsburg in Hilton Township, Iowa County, where he has resided since 1999. Bill and his wife, Margaret, are retired and have seven children: four that live in Iowa, two that live in Kansas City, MO, and one that lives in Seattle, WA. They also have 10 grandchildren. The Davis' own an acreage where they have two gardens and a pond. They have been REC members for 24 years. Bill went to Power Lineman school after high school and his first job was working for T.I.P. REC from 1978-1987 as a lineman. He then worked for Alliant Energy as a lineman and eventually became the Area Manager. Bill then went into sales and called on REC's and municipals as well as investor-owned electric companies. While working in sales he called on REC's in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Bill also was a longtime board member of Ducks Unlimited, spending the last two years as Board President. In his leisure time, Bill enjoys hunting, fishing and gardening. Bill has over 45 years of experience in energy delivery and he feels that he's uniquely qualified to add value to the board given his extensive experience in this field. In addition, his grandfather, James McGarry, was instrumental in starting T.I.P. REC as well as Consumer's Energy and Central Iowa Power Cooperative.

CORY PARKER

Cory Parker lives seven miles west of Williamsburg in Pilot Township, Iowa County, where he has resided since 2019. Cory and his wife, Shannon, who is a Project Manager at Procter & Gamble, have four children: Tyler, of Kalona, who works for Procter & Gamble; Carter, who works at the Raider in Williamsburg; Conner, who has graduated and will be attending Northwest Iowa Community College taking the Powerline Program; and Keaton, who is a junior. The Parkers live on five acres and have cattle and chickens. They have been REC members for four years.

Cory works at Procter & Gamble Oral-B division in Iowa City as a Project Manager. He has worked there for 16 years. In his spare time, Cory enjoys fishing at their family cabin in northern Minnesota, attending wrestling events and football games and being outdoors.